

Once Together, Now Enemies

Completely shattered is the accord which marked the meeting between Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany and Anthony Eden of Britain when the above picture was taken in Berlin in 1935. Now Eden, youthful British foreign secretary, has resigned because his government refused to take a firm stand against Hitler's recent Nazi moves. The German chancellor, who had barely finished a belligerent speech to the Reichstag when Eden quit, counts the resignation as a major victory in his drive for a greater Germany.

SUPERVISORS CHARGED WITH "POLITICAL INTERFERENCE" IN JUVENILE HOME MATTERS

Resenting "political interference" with the county juvenile home, the county grand jury, in its report yesterday, gave complete approval to the county probation department and the juvenile home, while, on the other hand, the grand jury reproved critics of the home on the board of supervisors, with the comment that "closer cooperation on the part of the committee of the board of supervisors dealing with the juvenile home would be a valuable contribution."

"The probation department, un-interference," der the leadership of Mrs. Nora Allen, is doing excellent work on behalf of underprivileged children. . . is conducted efficiently and with an understanding and sympathy appropriate to the type of work encountered," said the report.

"The juvenile home," it said, "is clean, sanitary and well managed. We believe the management to be alert to the responsibility which it has for the boys and girls committed to its care. The rehabilitation of these young people and their return to the duties of citizenship is of vital importance to the community. Those charged with it should be entirely free from political interference."

CHARGE U. S. "CROSSED" BY ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Congressional opponents of President Roosevelt's billion dollar naval expansion program today opened a sharp attack on the navy bill amid charges that the United States had been "double crossed" in foreign policy by Great Britain.

A group of congressmen opposed to the Vinson naval bill appeared to register their protests as the house naval affairs committee went into final stages of its hearings on the measure.

Rep. Herman Koppleman, D., Conn., charged that British overtures to placate Italy represented a "double cross" of the United States.

Seek Amendment
"I'm satisfied that by Prime Minister Chamberlain's going along with dictators we have been double crossed," he said.

Rep. Richard Welch, R., Calif., recommended an amendment to provide increased shipbuilding and repair facilities on the Pacific coast. He charged that funds proposed in the Vinson bill "will be spent within 700 miles of the capital, representing not national defense but sectional defense."

Continuation of the present policy of disregarding the shipbuilding and repairing industry on the west coast, he said would seriously cripple the entire defense system and might possibly render the navy

Replaces Eden

A personal friend of Adolf Hitler and advocate of an immediate British understanding with Germany and Italy, Viscount Halifax, above, was believed certain to succeed Anthony Eden as Great Britain's foreign secretary. ## "Black Jack" Weaker As Son Arrives

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 24.—(UP)—General John J. Pershing, leader of American forces in the World War, is "definitely weaker and somewhat apathetic," his physician, Dr. Roland Davison, reported today.

"General Pershing is not as well this morning as he was yesterday," Dr. Davison said. "He had a restless night. While he is free from pain, he is definitely weaker and somewhat apathetic."

"This may be only temporary or it may presage more serious consequences. While there is no heart failure, his physicians are not fully satisfied with the heart condition," Dr. Davison said.

The physicians appeared worried about the 77-year-old general's condition.

Son Arrives

He said the arrival this morning of Pershing's only son, Francis Warren Pershing, who flew here from Florida, did not contribute to the general's weakened condition.

"They talked only briefly," Dr. Davison said. The son may be allowed to see and talk to his father later in the day.

George A. C. Christy, long-time friend of Pershing, said the general wanted to get up and dress this morning for the arrival of his son.

Physicians would not permit this. To be near the general, Christy is sharing the cottage with Pershing and four other people at the desert sanitarium.

MURDER SUSPECT IS NABBED IN ARIZONA

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Otto Disbrow, held in a Bismarck, Ariz., jail as a suspect in the hitch-hike murder of Kenneth Wakeford, attempted to murder his wife in La Jolla last Saturday, police charged today.

The police said the wife, Violet Adele Disbrow, who works as a maid in a La Jolla home, alleged that Disbrow called at the house and after an argument chased her down the street with a revolver.

The woman escaped by hiding in some brush. Disbrow fled when neighbors called police.

The couple reportedly came here from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., one year ago, police said. Since that time Disbrow has been working as a male nurse, it was said.

Meanwhile the district attorney's office was drawing a complaint charging Disbrow with the Wakeford killing.

LAMBERT IS WINNER IN COUNTY SUIT

County Auditor W. T. Lambert today won the typewriter case against the county supervisors and the purchasing department, by a decision of the fourth district court of appeals.

The appellate court, according to notice of an opinion received here today by Attorney L. W. Blodgett, counsel for Auditor Lambert, upheld the action of Superior Judge George K. Scovel in issuing a writ of mandate, directing the purchasing agent to supply the auditor with an L. C. Smith typewriter, as requested by the auditor.

West Defeated
The higher court thus not only sustained the right of elected department heads to select their own equipment and supplies, free of dictation from the board of supervisors, but also handed a defeat to Supervisor N. E. West, committeeman for the purchasing department, who had declared war on the Tiernan Typewriter company, dealer handling the Smith machine.

West has contended that the Tiernan company held a monopoly on county business and sponsored a resolution adopted by the board, requiring distribution of business among various firms, regardless of the preferences of the department officials.

Challenged Policy
Auditor Lambert challenged this policy, and a bitter controversy began.

SENSATION HITS BOICE TRIAL

Dr. J. E. Riley, Orange city councilman and prominent dentist, admitted on the witness stand at the petty theft trial of Mayor A. Croxton Boice this morning that he had told Mayor Boice charges against him would be dropped if he would resign.

Dr. Riley testified under questioning of A. P. Nelson, attorney for Mayor Boice, who is accused of taking city gasoline valued at $730, the complaint having been filed by Lewis Evans, of Orange.

Under questioning by Nelson, the councilman said Mayor Boice came to his office after he had telephoned him, and that he had suggested that the mayor resign in order to get the entire matter straightened out.

The witness testified that the matter of the mayor using city gasoline in his own car was called to his attention in August. He said that the late Water Superintendent Richardson had told him "there was going to be trouble about the mayor or taking so much gas."

Riley also was asked if he hadn't asked G. L. Niles and Lewis Evans to sign a complaint against the mayor. He said he had talked with a number of people about the

L. A. SCANDALS INVESTIGATED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—(UP)—The county grand jury today investigated four major scandals in official circles, all involving asserted police "pay-offs."

These included:

1. City jail prisoners allegedly had been released upon payment of money to jailers and police. Deputy Police Chief Roy E. Steckel, in charge of the jails, brought the charges before the jury.

2. Assembly Speaker William Moseley Jones, chairman of the assembly interim coordinating committee, testified before the jury regarding operations of a coastwise Japanese-Chinese lottery in which a policeman was reported to have acted as a "pay-off" agent.

Expect Indictments
The Santa Anita race track bribery scandal, in which police-men and Los Angeles officials were accused. Indictments were expected to be returned.

4. Further investigation of the Harry J. Raymond bombing, in which three policemen have been indicted, was indicated by reports at the hall of justice.

Deputy Chief Steckel reported to District Attorney Buron Fitts and jury that before the grand jury that a preliminary check disclosed four cases in which city jail prisoners were given freedom apparently on "pay-offs."

The principal suspect, Steckel said, was a veteran policeman who filed for retirement within the last few days. Minor jail attaches were believed to have accepted bribes.

U. S. GROSS DEFICIT HITS BILLION MARK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The federal government's gross deficit crossed the $1,000,000,000 mark Feb. 21, the treasury's daily statement disclosed today.

At $1,008,635,794, the gross deficit, which takes into account expenditures for debt retirement, was approximately $286,000,000 below the estimate for the current fiscal year forecast in the President's January budget.

Income since last June 30 totaled $3,808,144,754, compared with $2,656,464,551 in the 1937 fiscal period. Expenditures aggregated $4,816,530,578 against $4,664,120,621 in the corresponding period last year.

The net deficit—exclusive of public debt retirements—amounted to $956,161,044. The President estimated the net deficit for the 1938 fiscal year would amount to $1,038,129,609.

HOUSEKEEPER GETS $15,000 BEQUEST

To his housekeeper, for her "kindness, service and devotion much greater than that shown by my blood relatives," the late Charles J. Webster, of Newport Beach, willed the bulk of his $15,000 estate, it was shown when the will, filed for probate today in superior court, named Mrs. R. Mitchell Rountree principal heir.

Dated August 7, 1934, the will left only nominal bequests to a group of nieces and nephews, and made the housekeeper, Mrs. Rountree, the residuary heir. A subsequent codicil increased her share by cutting off most of the blood relatives with $1 each.

Webster died February 15, leaving a $10,000 home on Ocean Drive, Newport Heights, and other property. His will recited debts of $4200 to Mrs. Rountree for her services, and $1215 to Malcolm U. Rountree for loans.

LAST TRIBUTE IS PAID MRS. EDWARDS

With Rector William J. Hatter of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, in charge, last rites for Mrs. Margaret Ann Edwards, 102, Orange county pioneer, were held this morning with simplicity and beauty at the Winbigger funeral chapel.

At the funeral service were many of Santa Ana's best-known pioneers who had known the beloved woman for many years. The chapel was banked with a wealth of flowers sent out of respect and admiration for Mrs. Edwards. Accompanied at the piano by Miss Parker, Mrs. Cecile Willits sang several numbers, favorites of Mrs. Edwards during her life time. Interment at Fairhaven cemetery followed the services.

CARL STEIN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Carl Stein, 35, well-known Santa Ana business man, of 2133 Greenleaf, was at his home today, recovering from severe bruises and shock suffered in a near-fatal auto accident on Newport road near 17th street, Costa Mesa, about 7 p. m. yesterday.

Avoiding a collision with an oncoming truck, according to Stein, who was driving home from the beach alone, he swerved the car, lost control of it and the car went over a 20-foot embankment. Stein, unconscious for a few minutes, was rescued by passersby who were forced to smash the windshield of the Stein car to release him. The car was pinned between trees in the accident.

WOMAN, 2 SONS LOSE DAMAGE SUIT

Mrs. Daisy Dupray and her two sons, Lawrence, 17, and Albert, 18, were denied their $10,371 damage suit against Caine Farrell when Superior Judge James L. Allen heard the case yesterday and rendered judgment in favor of Caine.

The damage claim was based on the death of Lloyd Dupray, 44, husband and father of the plaintiffs, in a traffic crash on Bushard road February 22, 1937.

Attorney Franklin G. West represented Farrell in the case. Attorneys Blodgett and Kuehl represented the plaintiffs.

Swimmer Pulls A Weissmuller As He Sights Whale

BALBOA, Feb. 24.—A whale of a story was that reported yesterday afternoon by Jimmy Elliott, who while swimming with some companions about 100 yards west of the Balboa pier rapidly retracted a proposed investigation of a friendly seal which on closer inspection proved to be a whale about 15 yards off shore.

Entertaining an interested crowd of about 50, the whale apparently audience conscious, sent spouts of water as high as 40 feet and began a swim toward the jetty still keeping close to shore. A small speed boat, "The Harvey," riding at an approximate 25 knots, suddenly appeared, but stopped almost directly over the whale who resented the sudden coverage with a decided jar of the boat. Oh yes, it got away, and was last seen continuing on its way to the jetty.

Two Barely Escape In Head-On Crash

COUNTY TO FIGHT RIVERSIDE FLOOD PROJECT

WATER SUPPLY THREAT SEEN IN VAST PROJECTS

Orange county today was marshaling forces to hurl a "mass protest" against the proposed $22,886,000 flood control project to be submitted to Army engineers tomorrow at Riverside, which local officials declare is "a serious threat to Orange county's water supply."

Sixty-three projects, in all parts of the county of Riverside, are in the proposal, including erection of dams and erosion control works that will seriously effect the head waters of the Santa Ana river and the water supply of Orange county, the Orange county group contended.

Entire Board To Go
Headed by Willis Warner, of Huntington Beach, the entire board of the Orange County Water District, the water committee of the Orange County Farm Bureau, headed by J. A. Murdy Jr., Smelter, and C. J. Marks, secretary of the bureau, and private interests today are attempting to bring together a large body of delegates to voice violent protest to the Riverside proposal.

"The original plan of the meeting was to have been purely a discussion," Marks said today, "but the Riverside interests have attempted to jump the gun and are making positive proposals that will seriously threaten our water supply."

Plan For More Aid
"We are preparing to make the strongest kind of a fight against the proposals and are sending out a plea to all of the county to attend the meeting and help us in the battle," Marks said.

Leaders who already have signified their intention to attend the meeting include E. H. Gardner, Orange; L. D. Stewart, Fullerton; S. M. McCulloch, Placentia; H. Clay Kellogg, Garden Grove; and J. E. Lewis, Yorba Linda.

LAMBERT IS VICTOR IN COURT BATTLE

tween elected officials and the supervisors was placed at issue before the courts in Lambert's petition for a writ of mandate. B. Z. McKinley, employed by the board as special counsel for Fensel, District Attorney W. F. Menton, having ruled in Lambert's favor in the dispute, contended that laws of the state give the supervisors authority over the responsibility for all property of the county, as well as supervision over all departments.

Judge Scovel rejected this view and ordered the writ issued. Appeal then was taken to the higher court. The opinion announced today was written by Justice Barnard, with Justice Jennings concurring. Justice E. J. Marks, of Santa Ana, disqualified himself.

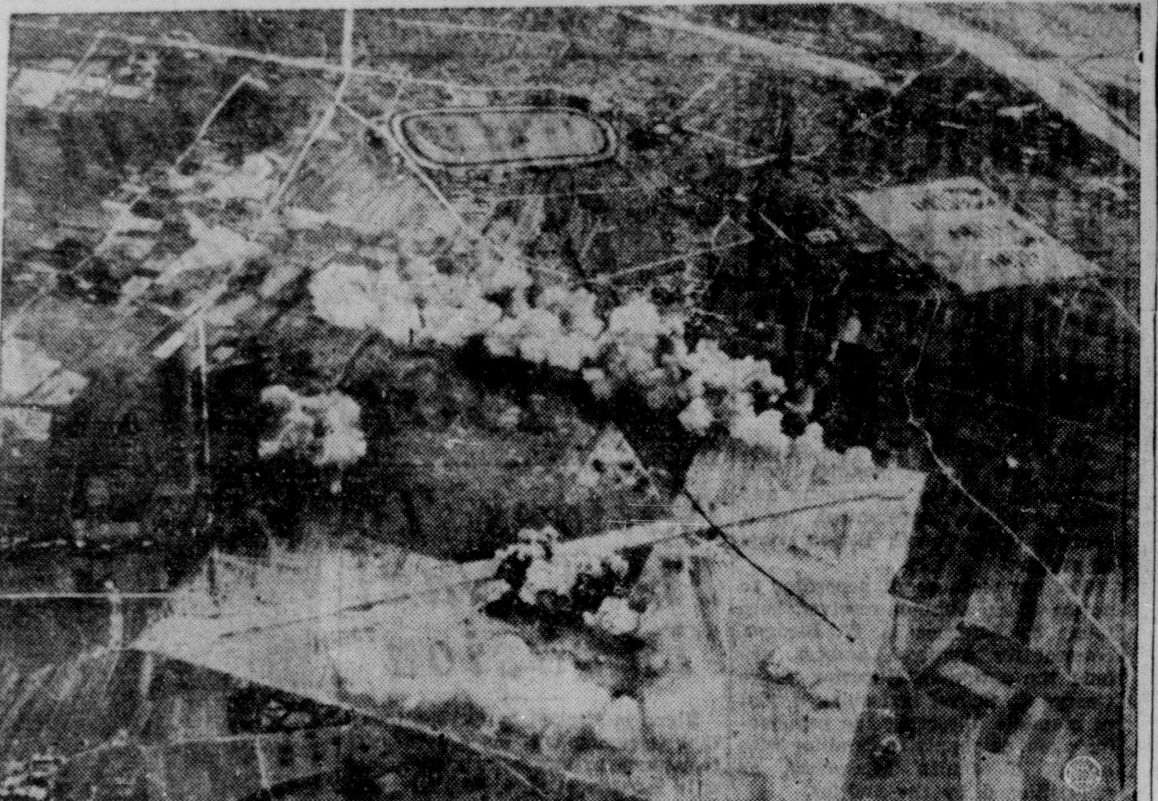

TAGS FOR FOOD
GIBBSBORO, N. J., Feb. 24. —(UP)—The borough council ruled that relief clients who own automobiles must turn in their license tags in exchange for food orders. "Why should we support persons who have cars?" asked Mayor Lucius W. Parker. "It is true that we don't give any money to relief clients—only food orders. That makes us wonder where they get money for gasoline." The license tags will be kept by the relief director until the car owners go off relief.

SENSATIONS HIT IN MAYOR BOICE TRIAL

matter and had told them that the records at the city plant were open for inspection.

Riley admitted that at a meeting of city officials he had said that he would fight Boice to the bitter end but stated that it was in reference to another matter.

Attorney Nelson accused Dr. Riley of being back of the charges against Mayor Boice, an accusation the witness denied.

City Clerk T. H. Eljah testified that no action had been taken by the city council authorizing members of the city council to use city gasoline.

Ernest Davis, second engineer at the plant, was recalled this morning and answered "No" when asked if the mayor had refused to sign for gasoline. He denied that he had given the mayor gasoline because he was afraid of losing his job.

Judge Cal Lester, who disqualified himself last week in favor of Judge Donald J. Dodge, of Costa Mesa, testified that the city council had never authorized the mayor to use city gasoline.

Selection of a jury was made yesterday afternoon shortly after court reconvened. Jurors selected to serve are E. M. Crawford, M. E. Bivens, W. C. Kast, Conger Thompson, Mrs. Margaret Tulene, Fred Volberding, Mrs. Elizabeth Benson, Walter F. Meier, Mrs. Amelia Krohe, F. A. Blake, Mrs. Waldo King and W. O. Higgins. The entire panel was exhausted during the morning, 18 additional jurors being drawn for a second panel. The defense exercised seven of its 10 challenges and the defense none.

Following the reading of the complaint, A. P. Nelson, defense counsel, moved to strike count No. 2 from the complaint, stating that it was a recitation of certain dates and amounts and did not allege cause for action. The count was amended to include cause for action.

The afternoon was taken up with the examination of two witnesses, Ernest Davis, second engineer at the water works, and George Williams, first engineer. Davis testified that he had put gasoline in the mayor's car on a number of occasions, following instructions from the city water superintendent, W. J. Richardson, who passed away last week.

Records On File
He also stated that on one occasion he had placed gasoline in the car of Councilman Henry Ben-dick. Questioned by the defense, Davis stated that on each occasion the mayor had been given gas from the city pumps he had not touched the pumps and each time a record had been made by himself of the amount to which he added the mayor's initials.

George Williams, 24 years in the department, stated he gave the mayor gasoline on one occasion acting on orders from Richardson. City employees are not required to sign for gasoline, Davis said. Private cars used on city business in which gasoline had been placed included those of the city street superintendent, C. C. Bonebrake, the chief of police, George H. Franzen, and the building inspector, Frank Dale, it was stated.

Nelson stipulated that 240 gallons of gasoline had been returned to the city upon the order of the mayor.

NEW C. OF C. 50TH ANNIVERSARY GROUPS ARE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Appointment of sub-committees to handle arrangements for the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce 50th Anniversary celebration, was announced today by E. B. Sharpley, chairman of the city promotion and advertising committee, in charge of plans for the celebration.

Committee appointments included: Expense, Ernest Layton, C. I. McDonald and Herbert L. Mills; Prizes, J. S. Cox, Harold Harrison and Mrs. Alice Peterson; Dinner, O. W. Hindegardner and Mrs. Alice Peterson; Publicity, Kenneth Adams; Parade, Rodney Bacon, Harold Harrison, Ernest Layton, O. W. Hindegardner, Fred McCandless and C. I. McDonald.

Three-day Affair
Sharpley said present plans include a three day celebration and home coming for former residents of the city. The celebration will start June 17 with a community dinner and end Saturday, June 19 with the Second Annual Air Show sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

A nationally known speaker will be obtained for the banquet which will start the celebration. Identity of this speaker will be announced within a few days, according to Sharpley.

Old Timers' Parade
On June 18 an Old Timers' parade featuring transportation from the early day ox cart up to aviation of today will be the highlight of the celebration. Cash prizes totalling $200 will be awarded in the various divisions. On the following day the celebration will come to a brilliant climax with the Air Show.

W. F. Croddy, chairman of the aviation committee, in charge of the air show, said today that he expects between 40,000 and 50,000 persons to attend the show this year. This estimate, he said, was based on last year's attendance of 20,000 persons.

Members of the general committee decided yesterday to prepare a souvenir post card to be sent to all former residents of the city inviting them to return for the celebration.

where Czechoslovakian sources added the significant information that France gave Prague assurance that she would respect her military alliance with Czechoslovakia only after consulting London, and that Great Britain strongly approved her stand.

Await Conversations
Britain's attitude towards the German problem probably would be clarified after her conversations with Italy, at which the middle European situation doubtless will be discussed.

In the recent furor over Pan-dict, Germanism and German minorities, it is noteworthy that mention of the fact that Italy has a sizeable German minority in the territory taken from Austria after the war has been conspicuous by its absence. Berlin has carefully refrained from mentioning it.

In Austria, Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg was busy lining up popular support so that he will be in a position to defy German encroachment on Austrian sovereignty, or efforts of the Austrian Nazis to get into power.

Nazis Balked
The latter was seeking, feeling that they had been betrayed and cheated. When the Berchtesgaden agreement was first announced, the Nazis were jubilant, thinking they had won a great victory and were on their way to power.

They soon found that Schuschnigg and the Fatherland Front are stronger than they and quite capable of keeping them in check. They also found that Dr. Arthur Von Seyss-Inquart, the new Nazi interior minister, may not, as they thought, be a new Moses to lead them to the promised land.

Friction so far has been kept beneath the surface but authorities were everywhere on the alert against disorders, especially to-night after the country has heard Schuschnigg's speech giving an account of his stewardship.

HIGHWAY PATROLMAN DISMISSED BY CATO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 24. —(UP)—Sergeant M. G. Nicoll of the California highway patrol has been dismissed for misappropriation of state funds, Chief E. Raymond Cato said today.

Cato said Nicoll, formerly in charge of the Mono county squad with headquarters at Bridgeport, admitted using motor vehicle registration and license funds to gamble.

A shortage totalling approximately $2,000 has been revealed thus far. The state will recover $1500 from the concern which bonded the officer and Nicoll turned over his payments to the state pension fund to add an additional $500. Cato said he believed the state would not lose more than a few dollars.

2.—Conclusion of some new agreement regarding control of the Suez canal, which would insure both countries liberty of transit at any time.

5.—Agreement on the extent and purpose of actual or projected fortification of any Italian or British islands or possessions lying athwart each other's lines of communications in the Mediterranean and Red Sea.

Diplomats agreed that the fifth point would present difficulties, because Italy will insist on Britain's giving an absolute guaranty that the Suez Canal, which has become vital to Italy since the conquest of Ethiopia, shall remain forever open.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Premier Camille Chautemps expressed willingness to resign with his cabinet today at a meeting with a delegation of the popular front, if the delegation believed a National Union government was necessary to meet the foreign crisis. The proposal was refused.

Chautemps assured the delegation of deputies that the French foreign policy would not be changed. He then offered to resign but the delegation refused that and hinted that they intended to support the cabinet in Friday's debate.

Favor Pact
Chautemps said France gladly would approve an Anglo-Italian settlement designed to diminish international tension. He insisted that the popular front must consider domestic and foreign policies as inter-related and therefore must solidly support the government.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Germany's acceptance in principle of the British formula regarding withdrawal of volunteer troops from Spain was conveyed today to Lord Plymouth, chairman of the non-intervention committee, by Dr. Ernest Woermann, German charge d'affaires.

Wool Growers To Seek Trade Pact
RED BLUFF, Calif., Feb. 24. —(UP)—Gov. Frank P. Merriam was asked today by the Northern California Wool Growers' Association to provide for discussion of a reciprocal trade agreement with Great Britain in his call for a special session of the legislature.

State Senator D. J. Metzger sponsored a resolution to that effect passed at a meeting of the association here yesterday.

Another resolution adopted recommended that all growers ship wool by rail to avoid union difficulties at ports and a third resolution urged producers to refuse to place union labels on their wool bags.

GRAND JURY RAPS TIME LOSS THROUGH 'GROUNDLESS' PLEAS

The 1937 grand jury called a halt on listening to complaints from Mrs. M. Linebarger of Brea, who has annually appeared before grand juries with charges against Brea schools. This year, her complaint even extended to the Brea post office, though county authorities have no jurisdiction over the federal institution.

The grand jury, in a committee report yesterday, stated that "her accusations, we find, are entirely without foundation, and we recommend to future grand juries that no more time nor money be spent in the further investigation of any charges brought by her, dating before December 1, 1937."

Comments Adult Class
The report stated that "this committee spent a considerable amount of time investigating very carefully the items brought to our attention by Mrs. Linebarger."

Referring to other school affairs, the report commended Santa Ana for instituting an adult class for training of school custodians, for which a need was noted. The report stated that most of last year's grand jury recommendations for schools had been carried out, and added a few minor recommendations of its own.

JAPANESE ALARMED; CHINA STARTS RAIDS

People here believed that Japanese planes had met the raiders at sea and turned them back after a battle.

The alert signal was sounded when the 12 planes were reported flying eastward from the Hangchow area of China.

When word was received that 10 planes had been sighted over the China Sea the air alarm was sounded throughout Formosa and Kiyushu.

The Chinese planes were sighted over the sea northeast of Formosa, scene of a daring Chinese airplane raid yesterday. An air alarm was sounded throughout Formosa. But it seemed evident that the planes were avoiding Formosa and belief spread that they were headed for Japan.

Planes Head East
An air alarm was sounded for all Kiyushu, which is the southwestern-most of the Japanese island group, with 16,000 square miles of land and 9,500,000 people. Information had been received from China that 12 Chinese planes, headed eastward, had been sighted at 9 a. m. in the Hangchow area, southwest of Shanghai.

Then came the news that a fleet of 10 planes was over the east China Sea. Their position was not stated.

Formosa lies far south of the direct Hangchow-Japan route. Today's air alarm was the first real one ever sounded in Japan. People had been drilled, however, because of the possibility that China might challenge Japan on her own soil, and when the alarm was sounded today authorities told the people of Kiyushu to continue their usual activities for the present. Schools remained open, pupils on the alert for a warning to take shelter.

SEVEN SQUADRONS PARTICIPATE IN RAID
SHANGHAI, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Chinese air force headquarters said officially today that seven squadrons of Chinese planes took part yesterday in raids on Formosa, Japanese island off the southeast China coast.

It was asserted that the raiding aviators saw 40 Japanese airplanes on the field at Taihoku and that scores of bombs were rained on them.

It was impossible, headquarters said, to determine the extent of damage.

Observers speculated widely on the reason for the Formosa raid, a completely new development in that it took the war to Japanese soil.

Some suggested that the government wanted to take the minds of the people abroad off Europe and bring interest back to China's plight; others that the government sought to appease authorities of the Canton area, where Japanese have been bombing severely for weeks. Most of the Cantonese airplanes have been sent north to reinforce the national government air force.

There was expectation that Japan would soon retaliate for the Formosa raid. Weather was ideal for flying today.

The delegates will debate and "act" laws dealing with labor problems and United States' policy toward world peace.

COURT ROOM SLAYER TO FACE LIFE TERM

SAN JOSE, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Mrs. Nellie Delgado, 40, faced life imprisonment today on her first-degree murder conviction in the courtroom death of Bernardo Soliz, purported slayer of her husband.

Mrs. Delgado collapsed, screaming hysterically, when the verdict was announced. Court attendants removed her to a cell. Her screams attracted a crowd which gathered outside the jail.

A jury of nine men and three women brought in the verdict after less than an hour's deliberation late yesterday but the jurors recommended leniency at the same time they found her guilty. Life imprisonment is the customary sentence in such cases.

Loyalists Report Attacks Repulsed

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Reports from the Teruel front today said a series of rebel attacks in the vicinity of Castrolva had been repulsed and that the Loyalists were holding their former lines south and east of the city.

Orders issued by the government for the retirement of troops in that sector were considered an indication of official confidence in the Loyalist lines protecting the highway to the Mediterranean.

OFFICE OF D. A. OTHER MATTERS DRAW COMMENT

Police work of County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs' department, in the enforcement of standardization and quarantine regulations, was upheld by the county grand jury in its report yesterday, with the comment that enforcement has been impartial. All fruit associations and organizations were urged to give "wholehearted cooperation" to the commissioner.

The grand jury said it had carefully considered criticism of the department's enforcement policies.

District Attorney

District Attorney W. F. Menton's office was commended for good judgment in 'settling and keeping out of court many complaints that have come to that office and which could serve no good purpose and would clutter the court dockets. Observing that the district attorney was giving good support to the courts and other departments, the grand jury then regretted lack of cooperation between the district attorney and the supervisors, but expressed belief the fault was with the supervisors.

More Inspection

An additional inspector for the health department, to aid in enforcement of sanitary laws, also more help for the work of milk inspection, was recommended for the health department, the efficiency of which was mentioned.

The supervisors were urged to consider establishing a sewer district at Dana Point, to correct a sanitary problem there.

Courts Considered

An inspection of justice courts, said the report, found affairs generally in order, with the exception of a $50 error in the books of Justice Chris P. Pann, at Huntington Beach, which Pann immediately corrected.

OVER THE TRANSOM

Some Californians there are who don't wager on the horses, observes Councilman Ernest H. Layton, but that's because many of them don't have enough income. Then, too, a few are just plain wise to the fact one can't beat the horses "in the long run or even in the short run."

One of the busiest young men seen in town today was nobody else but J. Wylie Carlyle, who in addition to his usual duties, was at the same time plotting and planning to help make tomorrow night's community play one of the biggest hits of the season.

It was revealed yesterday that one of Jack Boardman's (Grand Central Market's) hobbies in the early hours (while waiting for coffee to boil) is getting Japanese and Chinese radio stations on the short wave band. He was heard telling a friend that "the boys sure whoop it up sometimes."

The height or irony or something—Patrolman Charles Neer (one of the Rover Boys) trying to sell a dance ticket to a man to whom he had already given two overtime parking tickets. It was rung up as "No Sale," Charlie himself "hath said."

Senator Harry Westover is scheduled for a busy season what with directing Culbert Olson's campaign in Orange county for the Democratic nomination for governor and handling his own rumored campaign for the congressional nomination. "Little man you'll have some busy days," a friend told him.

Today's best bet at Santa Anita—Let 'Em Alone.

Blue-purple violets having eight-inch stems and petals twice the ordinary size were shown to his friends today by Robert Conkey, bailiff in Department 1 of the superior court. Bob has a right to be proud of his efforts. He grows the violets in his yard at home, 327 West Malvern street, Fullerton.

Growing pains are beginning to attack Ken Adams and Roch Bradshaw in their new printing venture. The quarters now occupied are rapidly becoming too small to handle Ken's increasing bulk and the satisfactory printing business increase, they said.

"Capt." Meehan of the California highway patrol thinks that song, "Lonesome Road," should be amended, "Look down, look down, that lonesome road and study well, the vehicle code, before you travel on." He was studying the 1938 traffic death record of Orange county which is double, 18, that of 1937 at the same time.

ESTHER CIRCLE MEETS

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 24.—The meeting of the Queen Esther circle held in the Methodist church Tuesday evening opened with a 6 o'clock supper. Miss Agnes Dunn, missionary nurse from India, spoke on work in that country. Others present were Betty Sorenson, Lois Doig, Ruth Wootan, Beatrice Kemp, Sadie Campi, Betty Smith, Ruth Keele, Joyce Arkinley, Elsie Humphrey, Frances Fairington, Betty Swenson and Miss Velda Barnes, advisor.

One Scene In Community Play

Friday night when Community Players' association opens its two nights' presentation of "The Late Christopher Bean" in Eboli auditorium, players are to see two of the best character actors the association has yet developed, Gertrude Horn in the role of "Abby," and J. Leslie Steffenson as "Dr. Haggett." Both are appearing in parts which promise to add greatly to their laurels and give many hearty laughs to their audience.

'NO TEDIUM' TO BE WATCH-WORD IN COMMUNITY PLAY FRIDAY

There will be no tedious waits between acts of "The Late Christopher Bean," to be presented by the Community Players at 8:15 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday in the Eboli auditorium, according to Gladys Shafer, who is directing the production.

There is no change of scenery between the acts and the brief intervals will be filled with music by the String Quartet from the Elwood Bear Violin school. Members of the quartet are: Eleanor Miller, first violin; Valeska Porter, second violin; Rose Marie, viola and Anna May Archer, cello.

Others In Charge

The technical side of the production is in charge of Mrs. Marshall Harnois, technical director for the Players, and her committee.

Mrs. Crawford Nalle and Mrs. William Spurgeon are handling the properties. The make-up committee consists of J. Wylie Carlyle, Juanita Fletcher and Edith Ellis. The stage carpenter is Victor Morrison; the stage electrician is Northrup Ellis; and the other members of the stage crew are: Burr Shafer, Max Holmes, Marshall Harnois, and Norman Cress.

'TIME-PARKING' TEST CASE IN PROSPECT HERE

Test case in Santa Ana's rigid over-time parking campaign was in prospect for 3:30 p. m. today before Judge J. G. Mitchell in city court, following a plea of not guilty entered yesterday by J. C. Metzgar, prominent business man and secretary of the Home Owned Business Men's association. Metzgar waived jury trial.

Metzgar was ticketed yesterday by Officers J. W. Foster and Chet Gross in the 300 block on North Broadway.

Eleven Others

Eleven other overtime parkers appeared before Judge Mitchell and were fined $1 for each citation.

Four speeders and one reckless driver completed the activity of the police court yesterday. The reckless driver was Donald F. Beardsley, Garden Grove, who was given a $25 work order.

Speeders fined were: A. J. Richardson, Coronado, $8 and $5 for no operator's license; Burley Buck, Durbin, 219 East Washington, $8; William A. Ross, Route 4, Santa Ana, $8; and Ethel Edith DeWolf, 1102 Fruit street, $5.

SHORT CHANGE ARTIST SOUGHT

Attempts to bilk two Santa Ana grocers, once by passing a counterfeit $10 bill, the other, by the short-changing "art," yesterday were half successful, police were informed.

The short changer, described as a Filipino, driving a car with Washington license plates, successfully operated at a vegetable stand in a market at Washington and Main, Ben Baker, grocer, reported.

At the Market Spot grocery, Fourth and Lacy, last evening, an alert cashier refused to take the counterfeit $10 bill offered by an American and he dashed away, leaving the groceries he had ordered.

The cashier, Miss Martha Kadawaki, informed the man when he offered the bill that she would have to obtain change from the manager, Elvin E. Milbrat, Snatching the bill, the would-be bilker, said he would see if his partner had the correct change, hurried to a car and sped away.

The man was described as 35, five feet, 10½ inches tall, weighing about 145 and being dark and slender. He was driving a 1936, blue Buick sedan, it is believed.

The coming of the white man spelled doom for most of the large animals of the United States, but the coyote although reduced somewhat in numbers, roams today over a larger area than ever before.

"GRAPE ARBOR" QUILT AWARDED FIRST PLACE IN THE LOCAL FAIR

The "Grape Arbor" quilt entered in the Sixth Annual Quilt Fair held yesterday at the J. C. Penney store, by Mrs. Ella R. Merrick, repeated its victory of last year and was awarded first place in the applied quilt division.

Other winners in the applied quilt division were: Mrs. Lena Willard's "Water Lilies", second and Mrs. D. S. Reeves' "Morning Glory", third.

Other Prizes

In the pieced quilt division first prize went to the French quilt entered by Mrs. W. S. Thomson of Tustin. Second prize was awarded to the "Sunburst" quilt entered by Mrs. W. H. Bass and Mrs. Ellen M. Smith took third place with her "Flower Garden."

Prizes in the Afghan division went to Mrs. Mary Livingood, first; Mrs. E. H. Drinkern, second and Miss Ellen La Shella, third.

The judging committee included Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mrs. Esther Morse and Mrs. A. R. Bennett, all of Santa Ana. Awards in the applied and pieced quilt divisions were $7.50, $5 and $3 merchandise orders. In the Afghan division the prizes were $2.50, $1.50 and $1 orders.

Oldest Quilt Shown

Pete Albright, a concrete contractor in Clarence, Mo., who makes quilts as a pastime, won honorable mention for two of his entries, "Springtime" and "State Flowers." Albright had heard of the Quilt Fair from a friend of his, Oliver Swearingen, 1047 West Fifth street and sent the two entries from his Missouri home.

The oldest quilt in the exhibit was the "Saw Tooth" design entered by Mrs. P. E. Lonon. The quilt was more than 150 years old. Mrs. Lydia Keener entered a quilt that was 100 years old and Mrs. G. Lamb exhibited one made in 1834. Not in competition but considered an outstanding display was the black and white hand woven spread and bolster exhibited by Mrs. Roxie Scholer.

According to F. A. Jones, manager of the store this was the most successful fair ever sponsored by the company. There were 138 entries.

The first telegraph line in the United States was built in 1844, running from Washington to Baltimore.

Y. COMMITTEE TO MEET NEXT WEEK

ORANGE, Feb. 24.—A meeting of the finance committee of the Y. M. C. A. board will be held at the cafeteria of the Orange Union High school Monday noon, it is announced by Sheldon Swenson, "Y" secretary. A regular meeting of the board is scheduled for March 9 at the "Y" building.

At both events plans for remodeling the present structure at cost of approximately $7000 will be discussed. Plans being considered will give the building the appearance of a new structure, it is stated, with outside walls stuccoed and the interior entirely remodeled.

The cities of Orange and Watsonville are the only two of their size in California having "Y" buildings, other cities in the same population class operating from offices, Swenson said.

MEEHAN CITES AUTHORITY OF OFFICERS TO INSPECT AUTOS

All police officers have authority to inspect any automobile at any time wherever it may be parked, Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the patrol in Orange county, said today in offering answers to questions of several inquiring motorists.

PLOT WITH KEY ENDS AS YOUNG MAN IS NABBED

The plot Irvin L. Laughlin, 19, janitor's helper, of 1206 West Fourth street, assertedly believed was clever strategy to fool and rob his boss, E. C. Wright of the Wright Transfer and Storage company, 301 Spurgeon, exploded definitely yesterday and today, Laughlin was in county jail, charged with burglary.

Laughlin assertedly entered the company office, where he worked, stole $18.75 from a filing cabinet used as a safe, Saturday. On the ruse that he wished to show a customer a boat in storage, Laughlin borrowed keys to the office from Wright, entered, hastily took a pencil sketch of the key to the filing cabinet, unbolted a rear door and left, according to his asserted confession to Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford.

"Key Fails Him"
"I planned for a week to burglarize the place and finally worked the idea out," he said, according to Officer Wolford.
But when Laughlin returned to the office with a key he had made from a piece of steel, the key wouldn't fit the lock because he forgot to allow for the pencil marks he had drawn, he said. So he used a crowbar to smash the cabinet. Police said Laughlin had but $5 of the loot.

Other Crimes
Two other burglaries were under investigation of Deputy Sheriff R. R. Lutes today, and another by Officer Wolford and Richard M. Bradley.

A burglar cut a screen from the WPA house trailer, parked at Citron and Sycamore streets, Anaheim, and used as an office, broke a window, entered and stole a first aid kit and pencil leads valued at $4. The same burglar, shoe marks revealed, entered the chicken pen of Curtice Case on West-ern avenue, one-fourth mile north of Lincoln avenue, and stole 19 hens valued at $30.

Another burglar entered the home of Mrs. John Jacobs, 1420 North Broadway, by cutting a screen, and stole a baby's elephant bank containing $1 in change. Little Doris Tittle, niece of Mrs. Jacobs, was the victim. The burglar ransacked two bedrooms at the place.

697 ACRES 'SENT BACK' TO TRACTS

Reversion of 697.93 acres of subdivided lands to their original acreage form was approved by the supervisors late yesterday, when the board signed its okay on tract plats accomplishing the reversion.

The acreage is located at three points in the county, 315.12 acres in Santa Ana Gardens, 370.31 in the Greenville area, and 12.50 acres at Stanton.

County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb was authorized to conduct sale of 160 acres in Silverado canyon, last last assessed to Patricia Mason, against which there is a tax delinquency of $11.50. Lamb reported he had a bid of that amount for the property.

FULLERTON J. C. ORCHESTRA TO PLAY MARCH 11

Announcement was made today of the program to be presented at 8:15 p. m., Friday, March 11, when the Fullerton Junior College Symphony orchestra gives its annual concert in the college auditorium.

The orchestra, under direction of Harold Wahlberg, opens the program with the Coleridge-Taylor "Suite Minnehaha," which is based on the poem "Hiawatha" by Longfellow. This will be followed by Tchaikowsky's "Overture of 1812." Miss Myrtle Klahn will be at the organ console in the finale of this presentation.

Baritone In Debut
Miss Dorothy Pratt of Anaheim, will be heard in Grieg's "A Minor Piano Concerto" and William Dillingham, baritone of Orange, will make his debut with the orchestra singing "The Hills of Home" by Oscar Fox and the "Toreador Song" from the opera, "Carmen."

One of the most impressive features of the program will be Earl Dymally's interpretation of Grieg's "Morning Mood" in stage lighting. Denver Garner will be the program commentator.

The hostess committee, including Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Margaret Buttree, Mrs. Walter Ross, Mrs. Albert Launer, Mrs. Allen Compton and Miss Mary Campbell will co-operate with Mrs. Esther C. Litchfield, college hostess, and members of the A.W.S. in welcoming patrons. Coffee will be served in the foyer during the intermission.

GRAND JURY HINTS 'SOME OF JAILS' NEED MORE ATTENTION

Although the county jail, under direction of Sheriff Logan Jackson, is rated by the federal government as one of the best in the country, according to the grand jury, being "clean, sanitary and up-to-date," with "the food good and well served," the same cannot be said of all city jails in the county, the report of the grand jury indicated yesterday.

The auditing committee of the Supervisor West, and the board's grand jury found that "while most of the jails were very clean, we did find some that should have been in better condition. A consistent effort should be made to keep them as clean as possible."

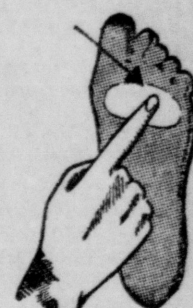

In praising Sheriff Jackson, the grand jury frowned upon the exaggeration of his compensation by legislature. Due to careful buying, some saving is possible on feeding prisoners, for which the sheriff is allowed 12 cents a meal. Other savings are made by transporting prisoners, the cost of which is paid by the state. In no event, we believe, would the county profit by a change in this system of compensation.

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

NEW YORK.—It begins to look as though Jack Kearns, the man who can talk to boxing's own language, has something after all in young Jimmy Adamick.

The long list of knockouts the Midland, Mich., youth had chalked up, was merely so much data in a book for the critics who had yet to see him perform in New York.

Adamick's rousing 10-round decision over Harry Thomas, an older, much more experienced brawler, convinced them that the lavonian heavyweight very shortly now will be the outstanding challenger for the heavyweight title.

Ever since he parted company with Jack Dempsey, Kearns has been trying to dig up another champion worthy of the name.

Getting hold of Adamick, Kearns had to talk long and loud before he landed his boy in Madison Square Garden against a first rank foe. "Can he hit?" asked the wise boys. Adamick's knockout record looked like a buildup against second and third raters to them.

LOOKS LIKE DEMPSEY

"He can hit like Dempsey," was Kearns' vehement assertion. "He's got Dempsey's early spark. He's got just as much knowledge of boxing as Jack had when he was first coming up."

They had doubted Adamick's ability to take a punch. Who, they inquired, had ever belted

JIMMY ADAMICK
We'll Hear More From Kearns

him full on the whiskers? What would really happen when he stopped a fast one?

Adamick's battle with Thomas bore Kearns' reply to that one.

For 10-rounds the 23-year-old heavy-weight took everything Thomas had to offer. Nor can Thomas be classed as a powder-puff biffer, by any means.

Kearns had maintained all along that the boy could take it. The Thomas bout proved it.

Kearns had stoutly insisted that Adamick could hit hard with either hand. Jimmy looked mighty good boring into the blond Minnesotan with lefts and rights that packed plenty of steam.

And Kearns, frankly and candidly, admitted his protege still had a few rough spots to be ironed out of his boxing technique. The Thomas affair bore that out, too.

NEEDS POLISH

He still needs a little more poise, a little more polish, before he can be called the finished fighter. But the plowboy, fresh off the farm, has led a clean life. He has had no bad habits. He trains well and wholeheartedly. He wants to learn the game and get somewhere. Just as Dempsey did.

And just as Kearns knew Dempsey had the stuff, perhaps Adamick will bear out Kearns' faith in him, too.

Maybe Adamick is the answer to the plea for new blood in the heavy-weight division. If Kearns is right, Jimmy will hurdle Schmelling, Farr and Louis within a year or two.

It is not merely simple enthusiasm that Jack Kearns has been displaying over this latest and fast-coming white hope.

Adamick did a real job of standing up for the Detroit promoter in his New York debut.

WILKINS BOYS HURL DURING DON DRILL

With the Wilkins brothers, Jimmy and Tom, doing the pitching, Santa Ana junior college's baseball talent held its first inter-squad workout yesterday.

Tom Wilkins is a Santa Ana high school boy; his brother is the property of the Boston Red Sox.

At the end of the three innings the score was tied at 2-2, with both teams turning in fair fielding for early in the season. Charles Stanford came up with the longest hit of the day, a lusty triple to deep center field. Ernie Barrett, operating at second base for one of the teams, handled some nice chances around the keystone sack.

Coach Edwin Carrett announced that he may hold another inter-squad game tomorrow.

KNOWS HIS SHOTS

Edgar Hudson, Alabama forward and leading scorer of the basketball team, also is No. 1 golfer on the Crimson Tide links squad.

DEAN SILENT ON EXTENT OF PAY CUT

CONCEDE CAL. CAGERS EDGE OVER TROJANS

LOS ANGELES.—California's basketball team, now engaged in fighting Stanford for the leadership of the Pacific Coast conference in the southern division, finds itself in a crucial spot this week-end when it faces Southern California's quintet Friday and Saturday nights in the Pan-Pacific auditorium.

Tied for first with the Indians, to stay there the Bears need to win both games from the Trojans as Stanford is considered a cinch to take this week-end in Palo Alto from U. C. L. A. which has not broken into the conference victory column.

Considerably taller than the Southern Californians, the Bears rate slight favorites because of their recent 33-25 and 39-27 victories over the Trojans in Berkeley. If the Californians as much as break even here, it will mark the first time that Coach Sam Barry of S. C. has lost a series to Coach Nibs Price. Since he started as Trojan mentor in the 1929-30 season, Barry's teams have won seven series from California and tied one, 2-2.

California will stick to the husky starting lineup that has been so successful to date this season. Capt. Chet Carlisle, 6-3½, will open at center, with two veterans in Bob Chalmers, 6-4, and Ed Dougery, 6-1, at forward, and Bill Garretson, 5-11½, and Lewis Goldenson, "runt" of the team is 6 feet even, at guard. It was the steady defensive game of all the Californians and the sharp-shooting of Garretson on long range tosses that figured principally in California's two previous defeats of the Trojans.

Although S. C. started a revised lineup last Friday against U. C. L. A. with Forward Gail Goodrich shifting to Guard Hal Dornis's position and Clem Ruh teaming at forward with Ralph Vaughn, Coach Barry probably will return to his old starting five. There will be one exception, as Capt. Bill Remsen is still out of the game, his recent leg injury having been found to be a broken knee cap. Tom McGarvin, sophomore of Pasadena, will again replace Remsen. Dornis will be back at his old guard post, with Carl (Butt) Anderson opening at center and Goodrich and Vaughn starting at forward.

DRESSING ROOM QUARTET

Lou Ambers, two of his brothers, and a friend, get together in his dressing room before the light-weight champion's fights and sing "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

ARCADIA.—(UP)—Seabiscuit, 1937 handicap champion, still was without a rider today for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap on March 5, and neither his owner, C. S. Howard, nor Trainer Tom Smith had expressed a choice.

Several prominent jockeys were reported under consideration, and some observers predicted the rider would be either Raymond (Sonny) Workman or Noel Richardson.

Seabiscuit's regular jockey, Jack (Red) Pollard, was injured last Saturday in the San Carlos Handicap when his mount, Fair Knight-ess, went down in the rough scramble.

ST. MARY'S DEFEATS STANFORD BALL CLUB

SPORT NUGGETS

By JOHN NEUBAUER

FULLERTON.—Fullerton's Yellow Jackets have ambitions of retaining their Eastern Junior college conference track championship this year when Coach Harold Lang will put a slightly improved team on the field.

From all indications, the Yellowjackets will be strong in all events. They do not hope to compete with Riverside as far as the sprints are concerned, but they expect to make up this deficiency in the hurdles.

"We can win the conference title, if we work," Coach Lang told his squad. He stressed the necessity of preparing for each meet.

Four Ten-Flat Sprinters Fullerton will have four sprinters who have done ten flat or better. They are Carmen and Creighton Groeling, Dave Seimon and Hank Ruiz. In the middle distances the Hornets have such men as Jay Moody, Robert Smith and Elmer Wagers. They are novices but show promise of developing.

Lang does not hope to replace Erwin Miller, stout-hearted 440 runner who graduated last year. The quarter-mile, Fullerton's strongest event in the days of Miller and Ray Malott, probably will be the weakest this year.

Wesley Clever, Wagers and Kenney Seigler, Southern California Class B 1320 champion, are slated for the mile while Raymond Vanderberg and Wagers will run the two-mile grind, as will Audrey Seed.

Norman Larson, conference hurdling champion, is expected to run consistently at 14.7 in the high barriers and 23.5 in the lows. Dave Seimon is a step behind Larson in the highs and Creighton Groeling is right in there. John Peak has run the highs in 15 flat and Harold Miller and Walt Kelley of Newport Harbor high have shaded 15.5.

"Vic Chambers will be jumping 24 feet before mid season," Lang predicted, "but Peak may best him if he keeps on improving."

Jay Moody, a broad-shouldered King City giant, has bettered 22 feet in this event and may surprise before the season is over.

Dudley Near 13 Feet Jack Dudley, fifth in last year's Southern California jaycee meet, will represent the Swann in the pole vault. He is doing close to 13 feet in practice.

Archie Baker of Anaheim is capable of 6.2 in the high jump, while Peak has bettered six feet. Kelley seems consistent at 5:10.

Bill Blackledge, two-time Oregon state prep weight champion, will represent the Blue and Gold in the shot and discus. He has been throwing the iron ball between 45 and 48 feet and has hurled the platter 140 feet. Ralph Nix is favored to throw the shot 43 feet and the discus 130.

LANKY HURLER SCHEDULED AT CAMP MARCH 2

BRADENTON, Fla. (UP)—"Dizzy" Dean, usually loquacious on matters pertaining to his job with the St. Louis Cardinals, parried all questions and remained silent today on the extent of a salary cut provided in his 1938 contract.

The lanky hurler ended his annual spring holdout abruptly yesterday after a 15-minute conference with Branch Rickey at Winter Haven, where the Cardinals are conducting a baseball school.

Dean will report at the Cardinals' St. Petersburg training camp March 2.

He received in the neighborhood of $22,500 last year. Fans agreed that Dizzy's pay next season will be substantially below his last year's salary.

TOUGH LUCK PLAYER

When Bob Stewart, Syracuse forward, broke his collar bone, it was the second time in two seasons that he was lost because of injuries. Last year he suffered a brain concussion.

K. OF P. PARLEY COUNTY PLANS HAILS BOOST IN MEMBERSHIP

Described as the most enthusiastic meeting of Knights of Pythias members ever held in Santa Ana, the annual District 38 convention was held at K. of P. hall last night, bringing out more than 150 persons from all parts of Southern California.

Talks were presented by Maxwell Burke, Ed Marley and Roy Bishop, the last being a son of the late founder of the first K. of P. lodge in Orange county.

New Drive Planned
Every lodge represented, officials said, reported increasing membership and plans were laid for putting on an additional membership drive soon. Plans were arranged whereby the several lodges of the district will get together meetings before the Grand lodge meeting, to be held at Santa Rosa May 15.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor Gieser of Belvedere Gardens presided at the meeting particularly well-attended by Belvedere Gardens Pythians and those from Santa Ana, Anaheim and Tustin. Charles Weber and son, Dawson Weber, served refreshments. Although the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, fun organization of the K. of P., sent a drill team from Al-Borak temple, East Los Angeles, the crowded hall left space inadequate for the team to put on a special program, Chancellor Commander Ed Marley said.

GILKEY TO ADDRESS Y.M.C.A. MEETING

Delegates from California, New Mexico, Hawaii and Nevada were expected to attend the weekend session. Yale B. Griffith of Santa Barbara, president of the area council, will open the conference. The closing program Sunday includes a devotional service and a business session for installation of officers and final action on committee reports.

ATTACKS OF GAS MISERY IN NIGHT

Would Lie Awake For Hours, Battered With Painful Stomach Gas; Van-Tage Gave Relief!

Hundreds of people throughout this section are now publicly praising

MRS. J. RONNTREE

ing and endorsing VAN-TAGE, the Amazing New Medicine. The following testimonial was just received from Mrs. J. Ronntree, 1357 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif.:

Tortured at Night by Gaseous Stomach

"I had sharp, shooting pains in my back that kept me in misery. I also had such a gassy stomach that I would fill up with gas after meals and have awful gas pains. This gassy misery often woke me up in the night and I would lie there for hours, bloated and feeling nauseated. It's wonderful what Van-Tage did for me! The sharp back pains are relieved and my gassy stomach has improved so much that I enjoy my meals and can sleep soundly all night. I gladly endorse Van-Tage!"

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 ingredients, so it is like taking several medicines at once! It brings forth gas and bloating, helps cleanse bowels, flush sluggish kidneys, stimulate bile flow, so that people declare it made them feel like different men and women. Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at McCoy Drug Store in Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Balboa or Anaheim; sold also at Son-Tax Drug Store and Owl Drug Store in Santa Ana, and by all leading druggists here and throughout California.

HOOPER IN OIL CITY HISTORY

BREA, Feb. 24.—More than 400 residents and friends of Brea attended the celebration held last night in observance of the 21st anniversary of the founding of the city. The affair was under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Russell Sage in charge.

Mayor Shaffer Speaks
E. H. Peterkin, master of ceremonies, introduced Ralph Barnes, who in turn introduced W. D. Shaffer, mayor of the city and an old-time resident, who welcomed the guests to the party and traced the history of the city.

Peterkin then introduced the Brea Community School band, under the leadership of Leland Auer. The band played a series of numbers dedicated to the Junior Chamber of Commerce slogan, "Oil, Oranges and Opportunity." The numbers included marches, a musical reading by Miss Phyllis Inge and a feature number by the three drum majorettes, Betty Courtney, Shirley Paiso and Shirley Donahue.

W. W. Hay, former resident, read to the group an article which appeared recently in the Union Oil Bulletin which traced the history of Brea, commenting upon her place in the oil and citrus industries.

Play Presented
The Brea Community Players presented a short one-act play. Those taking part were Mrs. Pearl Sarchet, Arthur Bibb, Mrs. Ann Peterkin, Melvin McMechan and Herman Hock. The play was under the direction of A. E. Stuelke and Miss Ruth Livingston was in charge of the prompting and sound effects.

Following the play the hall was cleared and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of the Junior Chamber of Commerce orchestra. Miss June Massey was the featured soloist.

LAMBS' BOOK TO APPEAR IN JULY
That the British publishing rights to their book, "Enchanted Vagabonds," had been sold by Harpers, and the book would be brought out next July in England, was the message awaiting Dana and Virginia Lamb last night upon their return from a day in Los Angeles.

"Enchanted Vagabonds," the account which the young Santa Anans wrote of their year of honeymoon vagabonding down the coast of Mexico and South America, received the Harper Publishing company's rating of "find of the year," and will be off the press early in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb are continuing their series of lectures, and next week return to Casa Manana, at La Jolla, for a return engagement.

G-MEN PLAN ARREST OF 11 FOR LOTTERY

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Federal agents moved today to arrest 11 men and women, whose names were not revealed, indicted with Rev. James R. Cox and two promoters on charges of "furthering a lottery" in operating the nationwide $25,000 "Garden Stakes" contest.

Father Cox and two promoters, J. Clifford of Cleveland and Thomas A. Harkins of Pasadena, Calif., already have been arrested. Indictments against the others were impounded by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar for 20 days in order to "expedite their arrest."

Prizes totaling $25,000 were to be given to those who offered the best name for the monastery garden of old St. Patrick's Catholic church, of which Father Cox is the pastor. It has been revealed that some of the prize winners were relatives of one of the promoters, Dr. Harry F. Walker, of Hollywood, Calif., who won first prize of $10,000 was the personal physician of Harkins.

POLICE SEARCH IN VAIN FOR SUSPECT

Following robbery of Fred Russell, Santa Fe railroad inspector, at San Diego last night, officers W. H. Hoard and Burnette Lane, with a description of the "Mutt and Jeff" bandits who staged the holdup and obtained $8, investigated those riding on a freight train which came through Santa Ana from San Diego, en route to Los Angeles.

None answering the descriptions was found, Russell said No. 1 bandit was a Negro, six feet tall, and No. 2 bandit, a Filipino, five feet, two inches tall. Both wore blue overalls and jumpers and the Filipino wore a light-colored cap.

Wonderful Success Raising Baby Chicks

Mrs. Rhodes' letter will no doubt be of utmost interest to poultry raisers who have had serious losses raising baby chicks. Read her experience in her own words:

"Dear Sir: I see reports of so many losing their little chicks so thought I would tell my experience. My chicks when but a few days old, began to die by the dozens. I tried different remedies and was about discouraged with the chicken business. Finally I sent to the Walker Remedy Company, Waterloo, Iowa, for a 50c box of Walko Tablets. They're just the only thing to keep the chicks free from disease. I raised 700 thrifty, healthy chicks and never lost a single chick after the first dose."

MAJOR TRACES CITY HISTORY

BREA, Feb. 24.—More than 400 residents and friends of Brea attended the celebration held last night in observance of the 21st anniversary of the founding of the city. The affair was under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Russell Sage in charge.

Mayor Shaffer Speaks
E. H. Peterkin, master of ceremonies, introduced Ralph Barnes, who in turn introduced W. D. Shaffer, mayor of the city and an old-time resident, who welcomed the guests to the party and traced the history of the city.

Peterkin then introduced the Brea Community School band, under the leadership of Leland Auer. The band played a series of numbers dedicated to the Junior Chamber of Commerce slogan, "Oil, Oranges and Opportunity." The numbers included marches, a musical reading by Miss Phyllis Inge and a feature number by the three drum majorettes, Betty Courtney, Shirley Paiso and Shirley Donahue.

W. W. Hay, former resident, read to the group an article which appeared recently in the Union Oil Bulletin which traced the history of Brea, commenting upon her place in the oil and citrus industries.

Play Presented
The Brea Community Players presented a short one-act play. Those taking part were Mrs. Pearl Sarchet, Arthur Bibb, Mrs. Ann Peterkin, Melvin McMechan and Herman Hock. The play was under the direction of A. E. Stuelke and Miss Ruth Livingston was in charge of the prompting and sound effects.

Following the play the hall was cleared and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of the Junior Chamber of Commerce orchestra. Miss June Massey was the featured soloist.

The chamber of commerce will receive letters and send to those interested a list of material houses, contractors and financial houses where additional information and plans can be obtained.

During the meeting it was revealed that Title One of the original housing act, which expired last April, has been revived and is operative on loans for repairs and improvement on homes. These loans may be made for any repair or addition that becomes a permanent part of the house.

CHURCH CLASS HOLDS PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 24.—A colorful Washington's birthday party was held by members of the Harvester class of the Methodist church Wednesday evening. "A Home Scene in Virginia" was depicted in a skit by Mrs. Forest Woodside and R. C. Turner. Mrs. Woodside wore an authentic old gown worn in the days preceding the Revolutionary war.

The Rev. Woodside gave two humorous readings. One was a parody on "Washington and the Cherry Pie," given in Italian and the other was one of "Barbara Fritchie," given in German. He also sang "The Quilting Party." Mrs. W. H. Warner gave an entertaining talk on the "Life of Martha." Miss Elizabeth Gruner gave a group of readings. Mrs. Warner played for community singing of the old songs.

They marched in couples to a Sunday school annex for refreshments of cherry pie and coffee served by Mrs. A. W. Barker and Mrs. John Parks, who was co-program chairman with Mrs. Woodside.

Hostesses were Mesdames May Overbury, Sadie Harris, Frank Smith, Manrow and Williams.

TOWN THREATENED BY RAGING RIVER

FULTON, Ark., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Flood waters of the Red River, which had threatened to inundate this town, receded slowly today and army engineers said the danger was past.

The river crested at an all-time record stage of 66.5 feet last night but fell two-tenths of a foot in six hours. Leaves were built 10 feet higher than the city streets.

Although the town was believed safe, 50,000 acres of farmland were under water and hundreds of persons were homeless. Loss of livestock and damage to homes was heavy.

The White river—falling rapidly at Batesville and Newport—spread over several thousand acres near Cotton Plant where levees crumbled at three points. Several families which had refused to evacuate their homes were reported marooned.

Aged Rancher On Trial for Attack

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Selection of a jury continued here today in the superior court trial of Ernest Fudicker, aged McKittick rancher, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

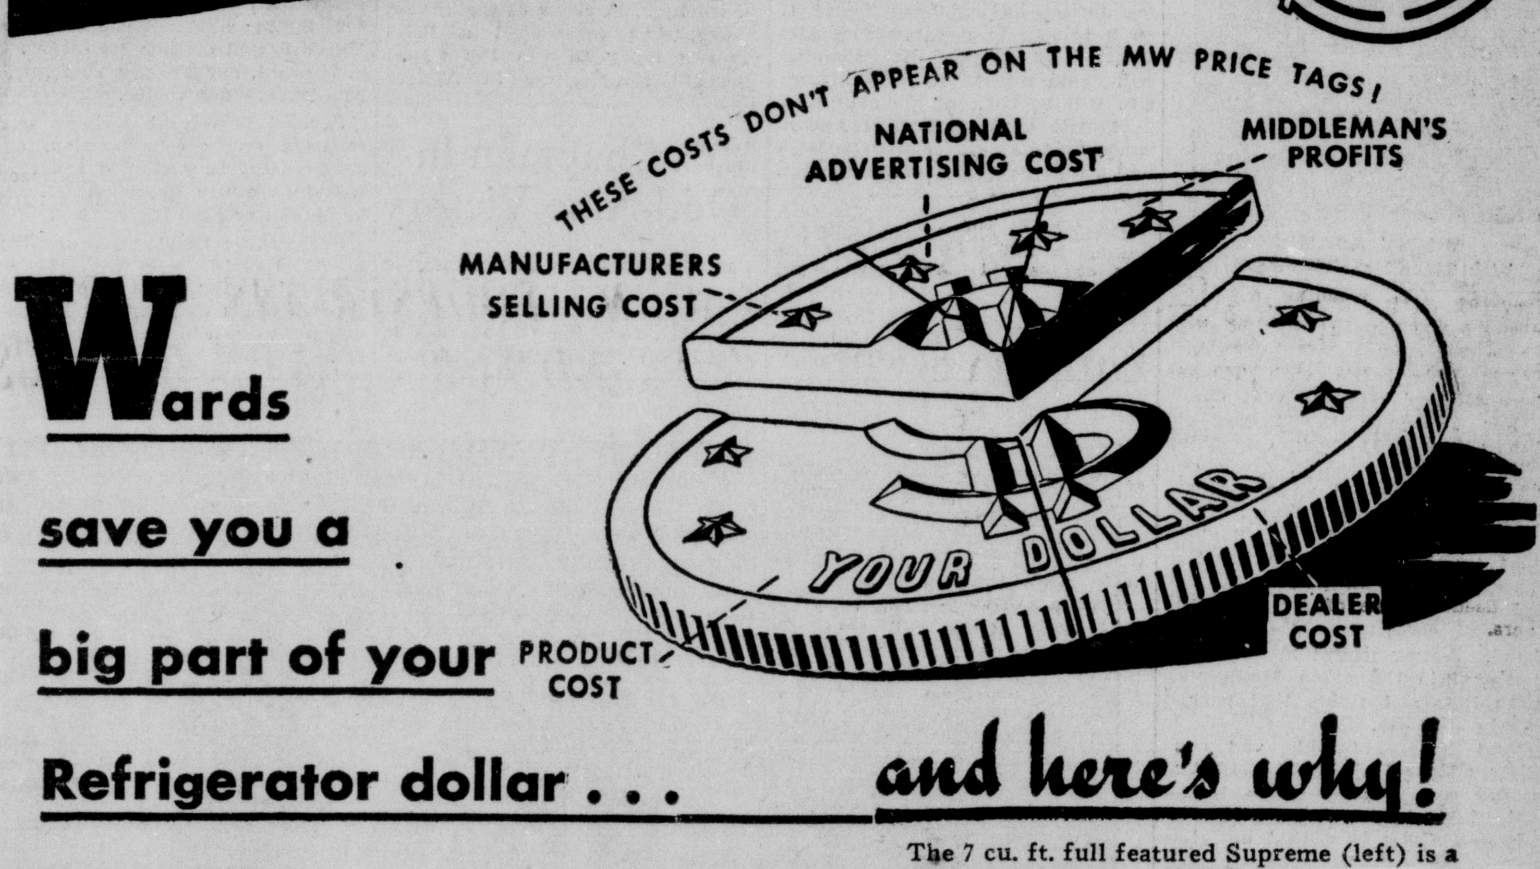

The charge was lodged against the Fudicker after he assertedly shot and seriously wounded Matthew S. Platz, prominent Bakersfield attorney, in an argument over a padlocked near McKittick last November.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(UP)—The Brooklyn Public Library, which has 550,000 names recorded in its registration office, offered today to help parents select names for their children. Among the names filed last year are Baseline, Earline, Earthline, Cello, Emeline, Florayne, General, Gurdoun, Hummoun, Nervertia, Ordinary, Shulamith, Vicella and Zipperrath. Another name was Filmpitz, which the chief librarian said should be given to "a blue eyed boy of a rather pious nature."

The Lea Valley of England is a center of the rose-growing industry of that country. Here 70 acres are under glass, yielding four crops annually.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24, '38 — "Settin' Around (Paramount): Because there is war in Spain and in China, you are due to see on the screen about a dozen new entertainers—the favorite stars of Mexico and South America. And screw as that explanation seems, it has a logical explanation. Spain, Japan and China have always comprised a large slice of Hollywood's foreign market. Just now the citizens of those countries are too busy to patronize the movies, and the studios—especially Paramount, which has led in the foreign field—have been feeling the loss of revenue.

In the effort to recoup, Paramount's czars have decided to build the Latin-American market—something they should have done long ago, for the average American fan is a plucker compared to the star worshippers of the countries below the Rio Grande. A number of "super" productions are planned with South American backgrounds and stories which are calculated to flatter the South American ego. One, "Tropic Holiday," is already in production. And Paramount is importing stars from Mexico and the Argentine by the gross. In "Tropic Holiday" you will see Tito Guizar, the Ascension Sisters, Roberto Soto and Elvira Rios, who are to Latin America what Nelson Eddy, the Boswell, Harold Lloyd and Ethel Merman are to the United States.

Having watched them perform today, I am willing to bet a shilling or two that several of them will become favorites here. Particularly those Ascension Sisters. If I owned a night club I would hire them as my headliners, then sit back and refuse to worry about anything but my income tax.

Visited the "Cocoanut Grove" set today in time to witness the birth of a new song that promises to be a major hit. Harry Owens, the orchestra leader who composed "Sweet Lullaby," is playing a role in the picture and was before the cameras. "Just sit idly at the piano and play a few chords—absent-mindedly," the director ordered. Harry lolled over the keyboard and let his fingers wander over the keys. The cameras were grinding out film and the director was nodding with satisfaction when Harry suddenly sat up straight and his fingers began to fly. "Cut!" shouted the director. Owens kept right on playing, and a melody began to take form. When he finally turned around, he was beaming. "Guess I ruined your scene," he said, "but I managed a new song in the process—listen!" He played it again—and you're going to hear it when you see the picture. It will be used for one of the big numbers.

Dropped in for a chat with the boys in the still department and picked up a story that Akim Tamiroff will probably hate to see in print. Seems that he was there earlier in the morning, posing for portraits in an even more villainous make-up than usual. Between shots, he picked up a framed photograph, dropped it and stooped to pick up the shattered glass. In doing so he cut his finger. The arch-villain of the screen took one look at the spurting blood, turned white as a ghost—and fainted!

Set-visited with George Raft, who is co-starring with Sylvia Sydney in an opus entitled "You and Me." He seemed so glum that I finally demanded—and got—an explanation. Seems that he went to one of Hollywood's nightspots last night and a tipsy non-professional, there with his movie-struck girlfriend, went on the war path when she stopped at George's table to ask for an auto-

$65,128 S. MAIN PROJECT APPROVED

NEW ROAD WILL 'SPAN' FLATS FROM BEACHES

Approval of a $65,128 WPA project for completion of the South Main street extension across the flats from Corona Del Mar to join the present end of South Main at Martin's airport was given by the county supervisors late yesterday, and the project application will be forwarded at once to federal authorities for ratification.

With yesterday's action, it was estimated that the grading work provided in plans for the project will be finished by July 1. Supervisor N. E. West, in whose district the improvement is situated, said the extension would be paved probably in October or November.

Approval of the project by the federal government is expected in time to prevent interruption of the present work of grading the extension through the hills at the south end of the road. It is hoped that the road builders can continue without delay across the flat lands approaching the junction at the airport.

The $65,128 financing for the current project would include $46,788 from the federal government and $18,340 from the county, as sponsor. The county will supply about $3000 in actual cash, being of rental of equipment and super-credited for the balance on account vision.

Christian Science Lecture Planned

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Orange, has issued an invitation to the general public to attend a lecture on Christian Science at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Orange Union High school auditorium.

TAXES!

March 15th is the deadline for Federal and State Income Tax returns. Make your returns early — avoid the last minute rush and possible penalties for lateness.

Having the necessary funds to meet fixed expenses such as taxes, insurance premiums, and other items, is much easier if you set aside a portion of your income in a First National Savings Account each week throughout the year. Estimate the total of your "fixed" yearly expenses, divide by 52, and you have the amount you should deposit each week. Open an account here, if you haven't one already, and regular weekly deposits will do the rest. Next year, when you need cash to meet fixed expenses — you'll have it!

Begins Life's Great Adventure

Not to be outdone by grown-ups in the Laguna Beach district, one-year-old Michael ("Mike") Smith, above, on a pinto Galloway, has taken to the saddle in the latest movement of pleasure-seekers of the resort city. Michael, who assures everyone he's a rough-rider, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, of Laguna Beach.

LAGUNA EQUESTRIANS START TREND FOR CANYON OUTINGS

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Register) —Following the banishment of all saddle horses save two from the city limits of Laguna Beach, a spurt in suburban equestrianism has been noted, with the advent of what is passing current for spring.

In Laguna Canyon close to the town, is a popular riding academy, and nearby is a dude ranch, where they learn early to ride "em rough, shaggy and uncurried."

Headed for Round-Up astride a pinto Galloway, young Michael ("Mike") Smith, who has just completed his first half-year of life's great adventure, appears right "at home." Son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith (Betty Cook), and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook, of the Dude Ranch, "Mike" also is grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith, of the Coast Inn on Coast Boulevard South in Laguna Beach.

It will be noted that "Mike" holds his reins high, in the most approved English style. However, it is vigorously denied that he intends to adopt the "posting" style, in which the rider goes buckety-buckety, showing clear space between himself and his steed at every bounce.

The short stirrup-leather has its good points, all circumstances considered. Mike scorns bareback riding, having a very fine saddle; but for the present, at least, he likes to ride barefoot. The pony wears two pairs of shoes.

COUNTY'S BLIND TO BE TAUGHT IN S. A. CLASSES

Instruction in handicraft will be extended by the state to the blind of Orange county, through a course to be inaugurated here March 7 under direction of Mrs. G. L. Tymony, from the State Institute for the Blind, at Oakland, it was announced today.

Mrs. Tymony will conduct classes in the basement at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Church and Sycamore streets, Santa Ana, on the first and third Mondays of each month, classes being held from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. The Y. M. C. Provide Transportation
Of the 7000 blind in the state, 100 or more are in Orange county, and are invited to attend the classes, whether they wish handicraft instruction or not. It was suggested that they might attend for the social contacts, even though not desiring instruction.

KIWANIS HEAR MUSICAL PROGRAM

A musical program, with the Santa Ana Kiwanis club chorus sharing the limelight with Les Phillips and his music students, was the highlight of the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club at the Masonic temple yesterday afternoon.

Talent introduced by Program Chairman Rev. Albert Kelley, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, included Jack Phillips, master of ceremonies and tap dancer; Billy Ward, accordionist; Vina Mae Harmer, tiny vocalist; and Betty Courtney, toe tap dancer; all students of Les Phillips. The club chorus was directed by Whitford Hall.

Members were seated by committees at yesterday's meeting instead of customary system of member's choice. President Maurice Enderle said, in order to facilitate committee work, J. S. Quinn was inducted into membership by Dr. Harry Huffman.

"Oh, Mr. P'leecman"

A policeman's life must be a happy one according to the smile on the face of Kenneth Crumley, who plays the part of Dan Flanagan, a motor cop, in the Lathrop Junior High school production of "The Count and the Co-Ed", to be given tomorrow night in the high school auditorium. Andra Nickie Pappas is beaming from Crumley's right arm and Ruthie Nelson is beaming at him from the left.

LATHROP CAST READY TO GIVE MUSICAL COMEDY TOMORROW

Final rehearsal of the cast that will present "The Count and the Co-Ed" was held today in preparation for presenting the musical comedy tomorrow night by the combined glee clubs of the Lathrop junior high school. The play, a lively musical offering, will be given at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium under direction of Miss Edith Cornell and Daniel Stover.

Clever lines and catchy music combine to make this presentation one of outstanding interest. The work of leading characters and the chorus of college boys and girls is an example of hard work on the part of the co-directors.

Boy in Difficulties
The story is that of a college boy who continually finds himself involved in difficulties with the college president. The troubles, however, are all overcome and the play comes to an end with everyone happy.

Members of the cast, the roles in which they appear and the order that they make their stage appearance follows: Beverly Short, plays the role of Birdie Boggis, a freshman girl; Betty Haynes, Amy Annold, a junior; Mary McDougal, Dilly McSpadden, daughter of the college president; Nannette Hubbard, Miss Agatha Lockstep, house mother at the girls' dormitory; Marvin Mendenhall, Dr. Cicero McSpadden, president of the college; June Trusty, Mrs. McSpadden; Rodney Helland, Mark Watson, college yell leader; Robert Greenwald, Hamilton Hunter, glee club leader; James Carlyle, Willie (Sleepy) Carter, freshman; Charmon Carlson, Marjorie Blackwood, campus belle; Kenneth Crumley, Dan Flanagan young motor cop; and Ben Pannell, Kenneth (Snooze) Andrews, comedian of the glee club.

ART THEFTS INVITED
ORLANDO, Fla. (UP)—A gallery containing about $5000 worth of pictures remains open without an attendant in Orlando. If a thief steals one of the pictures it will be considered a compliment by the artists.

MRS. NORTON SEEKS F.D.R. AID IN DEPORTATION

At Vancouver, B. C., Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, matronly Englishwoman who recently was taken from Orange county jail and deported, today was yearning for the companionship of her daughter, Gwendolyn, 14, who, she also still asserts is the daughter of Clark Gable, movie star.

Mrs. Norton wants her daughter, now attending San Luis Rey academy, Catholic school at Oceanside, deported to Canada and said she would ask President Franklin D. Roosevelt to aid in having Carolyn brought to her.

By "Person Unknown"
At the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Carsley, Vancouver, Mrs. Norton was laying plans, she said, to convince authorities that Gable is Gwendolyn's father. Mrs. Norton just arrived in Vancouver from Seattle aboard the ship, Princess Margaret.

She alleged her daughter was being kept away from her and that the child's tuition was being paid by a person unknown to herself.

While serving the term in jail here, her attorney, Morris Lavine, succeeded in obtaining a reversal of the court decision, in a higher court, and Mrs. Norton was freed.

TROOPS MUST NOT SWEAR

ROME (UP)—The Biblical commandment against blasphemy is being enforced energetically throughout the ranks of the Italian army. Posters have been pasted on walls of all military barracks. They read: "Blasphemy dishonors soldiers. Swearing is forbidden by Article 274 of the Penal Code and by Article 61 of the Army Regulations."

Cornflowers in the deepest of blue, completed the flowery tri-color effect of a prettily arranged table at Danigers where Mrs. Walter Dilley, yesterday staged a luncheon for members of her bridge club.

This particular group is one of a number of years' standing, its members and their husbands, all having been friends since school days. Their meetings at intervals of two or three weeks, therefore are doubly enjoyable, marked by the same gay intimacy as was yester-day's party.

All remarked on the beauty of the sunny yellow jonquils used so profusely, and especially harmonious with the wisteria glass of the table service. With the final course, a prettily decorated cake proved to Mrs. Carl H. Lykke, that her patriotic birthday anniversary was remembered, especially when she found that the members had se-lected a pretty gift for her.

A USEFUL CHECK

"Marty, did you open your bed and air your room this morning?"

"O, I forgot."

"Susan, I don't find your composition. Did you hand it in this morning?"

"O, Miss Grace, I left it home on my desk. I'm so sorry. I'll bring it in this noon."

"Henry, did you go to the hardware store for those nails for your father?"

"O, goodness. I never thought of it. I'd better go right now. Gee, and I passed the door on the way home from school, too. Now I have to go all the way back. Wish you had reminded me at noon."

Forgetting costs a lot of time and makes a lot of trouble. It is a bad habit to form because it has a way of forming itself into reasons for not doing things one must do. "I forgot," soon gets to be a defense against any accusation of neglect. No child can afford to cultivate the open road to failure that "I forgot," so surely proves to be.

As soon as children are old enough to have responsibilities, like lessons that come on certain days, errands that are to be done at odd times, chores that are out of the usual routine, but which must be done, a note book, or a card chart, will help to remind him. These notes should be written on the card, or in the note book, under the date on which they are to be done. The child learns to consult his book or his card and check off each note as it is fulfilled. That habit is priceless. It helps one to keep engagements on time; to save time and energy; to live smoothly and to gain a reputation for dependability that is worth all the trouble it costs.

Others establish routine habits by close supervision and the aid of the clock. It is not unusual for children to forget habits that have been set from infancy in this way. Saying, "I forgot to wash my teeth," can usually be interpreted accurately as, "I wanted to forget to wash my teeth."

It is when the children are going to school and taking on extra activities associated with home and school, that the checking card or notebook is needed. Mothers should help these children to establish this habit, but allow the children to do their own checking. The habit must be self-checking or it does not function.

In the beginning the card may be best. It is tacked in some place easily and surely seen by the child. There is a pencil attached by a string hanging close by it, and the child enters his duties and checks them off himself. It will be necessary at the beginning for mother to say, "Better set that down so you will not forget it." But she should not follow it up. That is left for the child to do. By making himself responsible for the doing and checking off, he learns to use his card and also to remember what it recorded.

Mothers can help children to remember by telling them at the right time. The right time means when the child's attention is centered on what she is saying. Never tell a child to do anything while he is busy thinking or doing something else. Make the direction brief, clear, positive. Don't talk about it. Let the child feel you have finished when you have given him the direction so he assumes full responsibility. Give him only one direction at a time.

DRIVE CAREFULLY —SAVE A LIFE—

FIRST PHOTO SALON

The Santa Ana Public Library in sponsoring the first annual Orange county photographic salon is catering wisely to a group whose numbers are increasing daily by leaps and bounds—amateur photographers.

As a hobby and as a serious undertaking photography is gripping the youth and many of the adults of the nation. Especially is this true in Orange county and all of California for that matter, where photo subjects are as plentiful as the hours.

The object of the show to be given in Santa Ana is to give the photographers of the county a chance to study the work of other photographers and to foster the widespread interest in the art of photography. The salon will be open to all Orange county residents and there is no limit to the number of prints that may be submitted.

Judging of the prints will be left to the final decision of three well qualified judges from Los Angeles.

PLUMS IS PLUMS

Mighty senators leave Washington to become ambassadors. Congressmen give up legislative perches to accept federal judgeships. An ex-President (the second Adams) concluded his career with service in the lower house of congress.

The determining factor in these things usually is whim or foresight; and something of the latter nature possibly is in the mind of J. F. T. O'Connor in announcing his resignation as comptroller of the currency to try for a candidacy for governor of California. Mr. O'Connor certainly is not in any immediate political jeopardy with regard to his federal office, but government reorganization is definitely, if ponderously, in the picture at Washington. National bank currency—once an outstanding product of Mr. O'Connor's office—has been done away with. National banks, once under his scrutiny, are no subject primarily to the reserve system and FDIC. The office of comptroller of currency is definitely out, when reorganization becomes a fact.

BEACH FRONTAGE SOUGHT

Huntington Beach, one of the most progressive cities along the coast took initial steps this week to acquire 1300 feet of beach frontage and 60 acres across the Coast Highway for establishment of a city park.

The council entered into an agreement with the Mills Land and Water Company when the latter withdrew its request for half of the oil rights. The council announced the proposed purchase by issuance of bonds to be voted upon April 12.

Huntington Beach already owns 1700 feet of beach frontage and with the addition of the 1300 feet now proposed for purchase would have nearly two-thirds of a mile of beach land for park purposes.

The cost of the beach frontage and the 60 acres across the highway for park purposes is $110,000. The property would be paid for at four per cent interest.

Huntington Beach city officials and chamber of commerce heads have been developing the parks system for many years and believe that the acquisition of the additional beach frontage and park land would give the city a playground second to none on the coast.

Orange county coast cities are fast becoming the playground of the Southland and Huntington Beach, through its proposed purchase, will be in the foreground of progressive watering places.

AID IN TRAFFIC WAR

A new weapon in the war on highway accidents has been brought forward by the Pennsylvania motor police in the form of a camera which is said to be capable of photographing licenses of speeding automobiles at night.

Infra-red cameras are being developed for police use by Capt. Flavel M. Williams, retired naval officer and fog camera expert, who was drafted by the Pennsylvania motor police to carry on his researches.

According to news dispatches this camera is expected to pierce the brightest headlights rays and clock the speed of the car at the same time. The camera would be set up close to the windshield of the police cars and could photograph through the glass of the windshield, getting the license plate of a car in front or of a vehicle coming in the opposite direction. Flashlight equipment would be synchronized on headlights at the front of the police car to take pictures at dusk. If headlights on the offending car were so bright the ordinary flashlight bulb could not pierce them after dark, an infra-red screen would come into play. There then would be no flash to divert the driver. The speedometer in the police car also would appear on the photograph through a mirror arrangement.

It can readily be seen where this type of camera would be of untold benefit at night and would have a tendency to keep careless and drunk drivers in line. The knowledge that such a camera was in use would have a psychological effect on most any driver.

Andrew Carnegie, it is reported, on being asked the trick question, "Which is more important in industry, labor, capital or brains?" replied with a chuckle:

"Which is the most important leg of a three-legged stool?"—The Laughter Library.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Behind the Eden-Chamberlain quarrel over the road to peace is an inside story of the failure of a grand stroke for world leadership by the democracies. It failed before it started publicly because the United States did not care to undertake it—particularly that strong mouthpiece of the U. S., the senate.

Within the past 30 days, the course of world diplomatic plans has been turned around completely. U. S. foreign policy has been definitely limited. British foreign policy has been reversed.

Instead of trying to get peace confidence restored through democratic cooperation, Mr. Chamberlain decided to try for it in Europe by understandings with the dictators.

That was where Mr. Eden and Mr. Chamberlain parted company.

There is no indication the plan that failed was a definite written idea, or in fact, anything more than a British hope. As near as can be judged here now, it encompassed the idea of carrying "parallel action" forward to warn the dictators with their own weapons. From the British standpoint it seems to have carried hopes of establishing a peace agreement by summer in the Far East, another in Europe, clearing of the economic atmosphere by trade agreements supplemental to the forthcoming Anglo-American trade pact, with an understanding on debts.

Adverse U. S. reaction to the vague thought of such prospects seemed to have convinced the British cabinet, or at least Mr. Chamberlain, it would be impossible to travel further down that road.

The new British policy, as conceived by Chamberlain, is interpreted here as an effort to drive the old wedge between Germany and Italy. It contemplates dealing with the U. S. separately and only on matters affecting these two nations.

Few authorities here believe Chamberlain will reestablish world peace prospects, at least not until Hitler has taken Czechoslovakia in his Austrian stride, until Mussolini has conquered Spain, until Japan has established her gains in China. That may be a long time, meantime, odds favor continuance of the status quo.

Vague rumors of a policy break between Mr. Roosevelt and Jim Farley have been afloat since the president declined to follow General Farley's edict on non-participation in the congressional primaries.

These rumors may now be denied authoritatively. Farley, instead, has broken with himself.

The edict of January 27 announcing his democratic national committee would "deny to no man the right to aspire to office" and "has absolutely no concern, with, or in primary or convention struggles for these nominations" apparently has been modified by a letter he wrote February 15 to Congresswoman Jencks of Indiana. Mrs. Jencks gave it out February 17 with her own letter to the citizens of the sixth congressional district of Indiana, announcing her candidacy for re-election.

Farley went far beyond the Roosevelt technique of endorsing senators without mentioning their candidacies. The democratic national chairman said flatly in his endorsement that Mrs. Jencks has "a lot of friends among high officials of the government who are happy to support you for the benefit of the sixth congressional district of Indiana."

No one here would say a good word for Hitler aloud, but there is a new silent respect for his ability as a diplomat and trader since his speech, as one eminent authority says privately he might have put Germany in a different light before the democratic world if he had seen fit to add just one sentence renouncing persecution of Christian and Jewish sects.

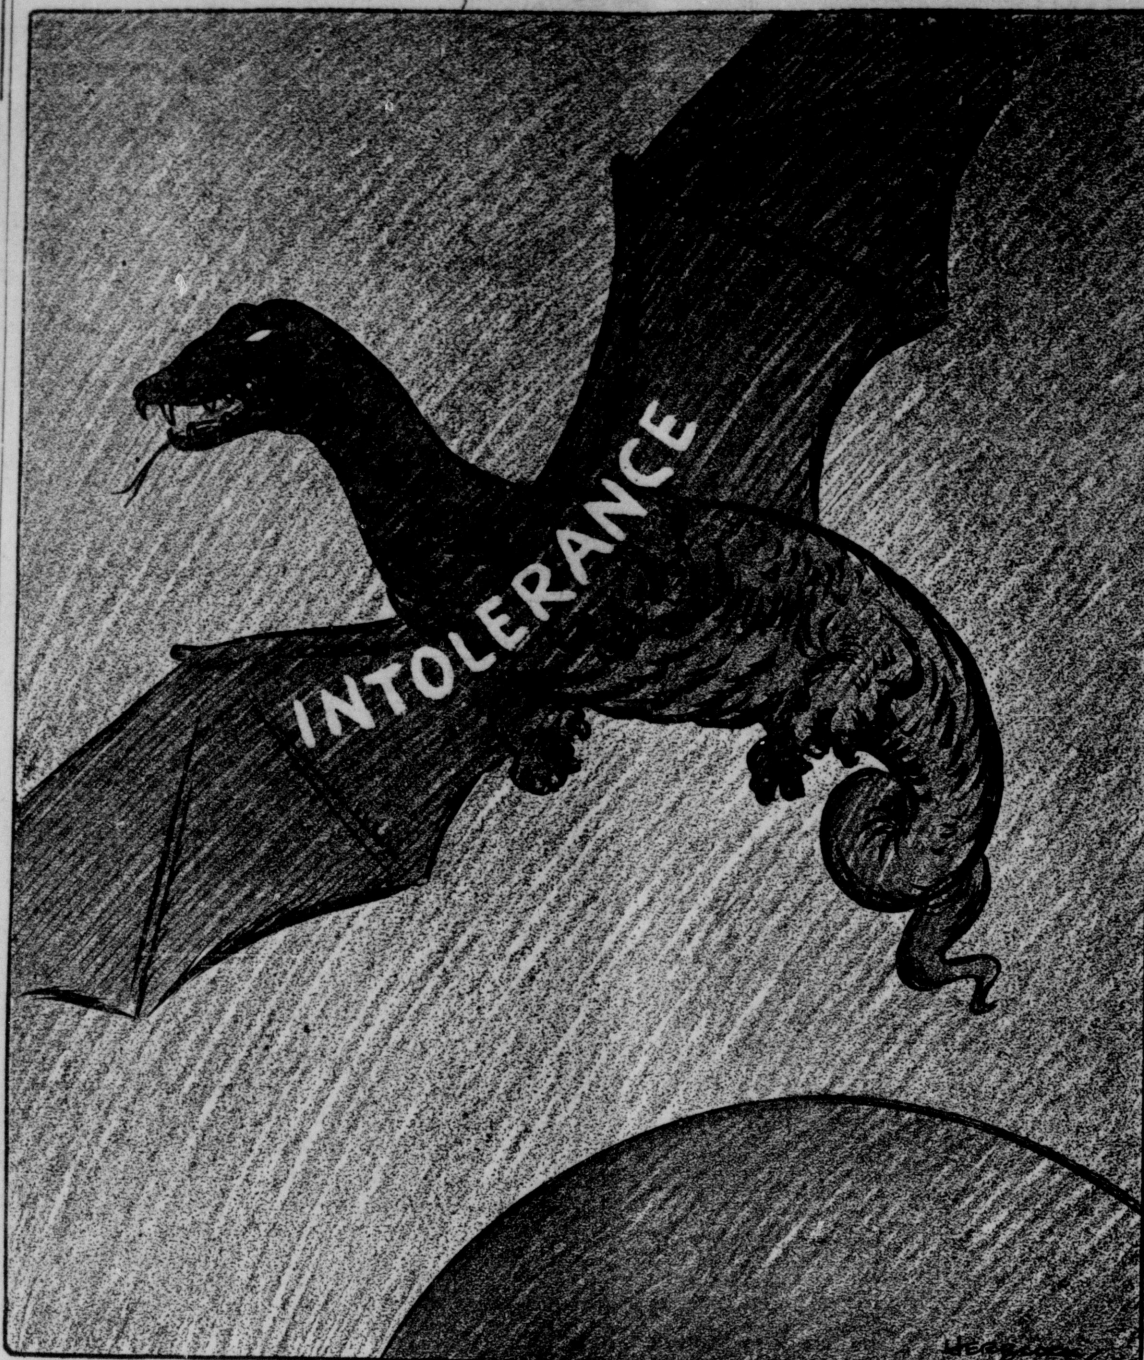

Hitler became excited only when discussing the "lies" against Germany printed in the free press of the democracies. He has not yet discovered that free speech is the only practical antidote for false rumors. If he permitted free news-gathering in Germany, he would find that truth survives false rumors and misrepresentations. He could profit by the experience of the Russians whose militant censorship likewise breeds misrepresentations. Nations with free speech have no such troubles.

The endorsement which senate leader "Dear Alben" Barkley received from the president was strong enough. But apparently Mr. Barkley is taking no chances. He has been spending his week end lately in Kentucky. It is an expensive precaution which indicates the precariousness of the situation.

Ambassador Joe Kennedy called on Vice President Garner before leaving, and said good-bye as "one good no-man to another." They have been regarded in inner circles as the don't-do-it counselors.

Sharp-eared economists thought they had heard Mr. Roosevelt's price statement (the one prepared by his economists) somewhere before. They looked up the testimony of Federal Reserve Chairman Eccles before the senate banking

NEW PROTAMINE ZINC INSULIN OFFERS GREATER SATISFACTION TO DIABETES

One of the great discoveries of the past few years has been an improvement in the insulin used in the treatment of diabetes. Insulin itself was such an important discovery that the investigators received the Nobel prize for their work.

Medicine, however, does not stop with a discovery of this character, but proceeds at once to improvements and advances which enhance its usefulness.

The great discovery which still remains to be made in this field is development of a preparation which can be taken by mouth and which will act as a substitute for the secretion of the pancreas, known as insulin, which lacking in those who have diabetes.

With the old insulin, frequently as many as four injections per day might be required and all meals had to be taken in proper relation to the injection. People with diabetes had to live on an exceedingly regular schedule.

The development of the new protamine zinc insulin makes it possible in many cases to abolish these restrictions. Often it is possible for the patient to take one dose before breakfast and then to take his meals at optional hours during the day.

Of course every patient with diabetes differs from every other patient and it is not possible to make any definite rule for all of them. After suitable study, however, many patients are going to be able to use the new preparation to great advantage.

It must be remembered that the patient with diabetes must not only take the preparation of insulin to substitute for the secretion that he lacks, but he must also choose his food both as to quantity and quality in relation to the amount of insulin that he takes and the needs of his body for energy and for growth.

Once a diabetic person becomes experienced in the uses of either the old or new insulin, he can, with intelligence, regulate his routine so as to live nearly a normal existence. If a person with diabetes develops an intercurrent infection, or if he is suddenly called upon for an excess output of energy, that may modify greatly the amount of food that he is to take and with it the amount of insulin. Altogether, however, the new protamine zinc insulin has greatly modified the control of diabetes.

Just as soon as people with diabetes learn the advantage of the new preparation, they are often eager to abandon whatever they were doing in the past and to begin at once with the new product. They forget the necessity for the same careful study and control that preceded the first taking of insulin and the long experience that they have had with the old product.

There are many cases in which the transfer from the old to the new product may involve an interval in which they take both. In some instances it may require residence in a hospital to determine response and to train patients in the use of the new substance.

Walt Disney's animated fables may well supply a key to our progress during the next 20 years.

For if there is one thing plain it is that the whole world lies under a malicious spell of its own contriving, a spell which will not be broken until the Prince comes riding by and restores the sleeping Snow-White to life. This is another way of saying that the world is again waiting for a Messiah, or rather for a religion—old or new—which will set it free from the curse of dead ideas and petrified customs.

Such a mood as this descended on the ancient world during the Augustan Age, when Virgil wrote his famous Eclogue prefiguring the coming of Christ, and when Horace sang of the glories of contentment rather than of war.

This is, of course, a rather heavy burden to lay on the tender charm of Walt Disney's latest production. The tale of Snow-White has long been a part of folklore—but so had the tale of the Three Little Pigs long been known before it reached the screen in 1932. Its popularity is proven by its survival; its wider appeal must lie in the state of the world itself, in the growing conviction that, despite our riches and knowledge, we are somehow bewitched by malign forces which prevent our making use of what we have, and that if only the right Prince kisses the sleeping Princess, we can all live happily ever after.

The chances are that Disney is right and that the genius who pillaged Aesop to make animals speak for muzzled men has laid his finger on the clue to the modern labyrinth and has offered us, through this charming old fairy-tale, the substance of the things we all hope for the evidence of that faith in life which gives us courage in the dark.

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Good administration can make a bad plan work. Bad administration can make the best plan fail. The farm bill is just about the worst piece of legislation ever turned out by Congress. It is so obscure and complex with its cross reference to other statutes, it takes days of work for even superficial analysis. Nobody knows how it will work, how much it will cost and how much liability the government will eventually have to assume under its almost limitless guarantee—and not ten men who voted for it know what is in it. It collides head-on with what are supposed to be constitutional inhibitions and deeply rooted popular traditions. It is full of hateful espionage, privilege and something pretty close to bribing the acquiescence of independent farmers—but what is the use? It has all been said before. Congress knew it and yet passed the bill. That is water over the dam.

The question now is administration of the bill. It could put a terrible crimp into the country. It could wreck Mr. Roosevelt and return the Republicans. It could do almost anything. Mr. Henry Agard Wallace is Horatius at the bridge, the little Dutch boy at the broken dike, Atlas supporting the world, and Ajax defying the lightning.

As far as this column is concerned, while it doesn't approve of Wallace, in his present position, and despises his nit-wit bill, it certainly wishes him well in this. All our eggs are in this basket which Henry must carry all by himself.

Reserving the right to criticize particular actions, I think everybody ought to pull for his general success. There is this thin Chinese man's chance. Mr. Wallace may be haywire on planning and panaceas, but he is usually extremely cautious in action, and caution is what is principally needed in playing with this truck-load of dynamite.

The essential guts of this plan are to get farm prices up to "parity." This is to be done in a combination of two ways: (1) by regulating production and marketing to a restricted current supply to market, thus raising price (2) by making up the difference between the price thus rigged and the "parity" price by paying cash "benefits."

Mr. Wallace has so much discreditable here that he could hold this plan down to little more than paying "benefits" to secure parity prices and leave his regulation of farm production and marketing to a very minimum—almost none at all. Or he could go the whole hog and collapse himself—and us—in a year.

(In other case, making up parity prices is going to require new revenue and the only place to get it is by a "processing tax"—which is hokum for "sales tax." Such a tax is inevitable. But if the proposition of "parity prices" is accepted it isn't as bad as it sounds. What difference does it make to the consumer whether it comes through security and tinkering with the food supply or through a tax? It makes a difference but it is all in favor of the processing tax because that would save hundreds of millions in other taxes for the cost of the cockeyed administration of 6,000,000 farms. Also, it would be a lot better for the consumer to be assured that plenty under free production than to gamble that Henry didn't make a mistake in regulating an artificial scarcity.

Henry can either have a swell time for a year going ga-ga over his vast new toy and unlimited power—and then kloploplop! Or he can play the cards close to his vest and save the farmer, save the country, save his own reputation—and maybe his chance to sit on the Great White Throne. God save us and keep Henry cautious.

HERE AND THERE

The British Government has experimented with rubber roads, a mixture of cement and liquid rubber. They are reported to be bump-proof, nonporous and everlasting.

It is estimated that the most of an ideal network of roads for the entire United States would cost $57,000,000,000, with a saving of 2 cents a mile of travel for all motor vehicles.

According to estimates, rural travel today is in the neighborhood of 110 billions miles yearly.

Motor vehicle accidents in the United States during the first 10 months of 1937 claimed 31,950 lives, corresponding with the 29,560 lives lost during the same period last year.

A newly designed car is capable of developing a speed of 122 miles an hour with a small engine. The car has front-wheel drive, electric gear shift and independently-sprung wheels.

Rubber cushioning used at the point where the housing is mounted to the frame tends to absorb road shocks, keeping them from the driver's hands.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING TENDENCIES

With some 60 individuals connected with the collective bargaining groups in Oregon having been arrested, indicted or jailed since January 21 on charges of assault, truck wrecking, arson or bombing, it might be well to analyze the principles back of collective bargaining and see whether these actions are consistent with the principles back of this movement.

Collective bargaining, in the final analysis, is a determination on the part of a group to have rights to which other men are not entitled. They do this by preventing people from joining the union, preventing them from learning after they join, expelling them, fining them, or telling which members may work.

This principle violates the fundamental principles of all religions—that of equal rights for the pursuit of happiness.

It is an utter lack of respect for other peoples' rights. It violates the principle that the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule.

When any individual starts in these restrictive methods to prevent other people from having rights which he demands, it is the natural thing for these beliefs to lead gradually step by step to other concerted actions, usually secretly and under cover, to prevent other individuals from having equal rights with those in the collective unit.

Yet both major political parties, many church groups, many college educators and all maudlin reformers are continually advocating the principles of collective bargaining.

It is time we began to realize what the principles of collective bargaining really mean.

LIBERTY AND VOTING MAJORITY

DEMOCRACY

Some of the so-called liberals are always contending that if we are not to have a voting majority democracy, what can be substituted in its place and that they prefer that a voting majority decide things to any other method of making decisions.

This statement makes us wonder whether there ever has been a place in all history when a true liberal form of government was established by the voting majority.

Benjamin Kidd in his great book, "Western Civilization," contends that the first real liberal Bill of Rights was presented to the people by the Army in 1649. When the Articles of Confederacy were adopted, a large part of the citizens at that time did not have the right of franchise, nor did they have the right of franchise when the present Constitution was adopted and the Constitution was presented to them with no alternative but to retain the Federation or adopt a Constitution.

The voting majority, therefore, did not establish our Constitution and when the Bill of Rights was added, a large percentage of the population was without the right of franchise.

So we wonder whether there has been, or is any immediate hope of any government, giving the people a Bill of Rights when all the people had a right to vote on every important question.

We would be glad to be enlightened on this important question. This question should be of interest now that we are more and more losing the rights originally given to us by the aristocracy who patterned these rights after the Bill of Rights, given to England by the Army in 1649.

PROFITS AND WAGES

A professor, with whom we come in contact, contends that each worker should get what he produces and that if there be profits this is evidence that he is not getting what he produces.

This belief is quite common among labor agitators and socialists but seldom do you run across a professor who does not understand the fallacy of this reasoning.

Because there are profits, is no evidence that the worker is not getting all he produces. The reason for this is that by working together, people can produce much more than they can working individually. If one man has certain qualities or abilities to do things that another has not and this man can employ another and instruct him how to produce something and pay him more than he can get producing something for himself, or more than anyone else will pay him, and still have a profit left, then this profit belongs to the entrepreneur with the special talent.

Let us illustrate. If a man knows how to raise strawberries, rents land and hires a man to care for the strawberries and produces more and markets them in a better way and sells them at a better price than the hired worker could himself by renting land and capital and producing them, then the difference between what he could get this worker or other workers to do the same job for and what he is able to market his berries for is a profit.

The profit is created by the judgment and management of the individual and should go to him as being what he produces just the same as the part that goes to the laborer should be the part that he himself or someone else would pay him.

WHO GETS WORKERS' PAY?

W. C. Mullendore, regional vice president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a recent address at the University of California expressed an idea that we wish every worker in the land could understand.

He pointed out that a distribution of the taxes among wage-earners would increase wages by 30 per cent, while a distribution of the owners' share would increase wages only 10 per cent.

When the workers begin to realize that these sycophantic legislators are not only sapping their pay envelopes by taking nearly one-third for taxes, but they are keeping their pay envelopes at about a half of what they should be if the United States congress were filled with men who were statesmen rather than scheming, cowardly, tricky politicians.

Our trouble is, as we have repeatedly said, due to the paralyzing laws passed in the last quarter of a century by our legislators.
